

Bederra Corporation Launches Houston, TX Medical Clinic

On Tuesday June 2, 2009, 11:19 am EDT

HOUSTON, TX--(MARKET WIRE)--Jun 2, 2009 -- Bederra Corporation (Other OTC:BEDA.PK - News), a medical imaging and diagnostic Company, announced today that it has opened the Reliant Medical Clinic, in Houston, TX, serving the specialized medical needs of seniors.

The clinic, located at the company's Lumar Imaging facility, provides physician and diagnostic services to chronically ill seniors who are referred by hospitals, home health and other patient service groups specializing in senior care. Medical and Diagnostic Services to this medically underserved community will be provided at the clinic location as well as in the patients home as required.

The strategic location of the clinic (adjacent to the Texas Medical Center) positions the company to receive additional patients for its diagnostic services including MRI and Nuclear Imaging, among others. The company has plans to open 2 more such clinics by the end of 2009 which may be located in other Texas cities in line with the company's strategic model for expansion and increased patient base. Each clinic could generate between $3 and 4 million in gross annual revenue. Under this plan, Bederra intends to acquire additional medical facilities and medical diagnostic services in order to become a unique, larger and more diversified medical services provider.

"We continue to make great strides in building a diversified medical company. We are currently in the process of reviewing several additional acquisitions. With our recent accomplishments, we are building the foundation for strong company growth and enhanced shareholder value in 2009 and beyond," stated Graham Williams, CEO of Bederra.
