Upon completion of the acquisition, the company plans to host a webinar whereby current or potential stockholders can submit questions online in real time to have a more personal dialogue with management.

Management of both companies are anxious for the acquisition to take place, as there are excellent synergies between the two companies that will have a positive effect on future earnings.

The company had a Letter of Intent to acquire Basic Solutions last year but after due diligence both parties decided not to pursue the acquisition.

The advantage of this acquisition to Bederra is that TMH brings a line of diagnostic services that can be added to via internal growth or from compatible acquisitions.
